FOR THE LAUNCH OF A NEW RESOURCE!

THIS TOOL CAN HELP YOU PLAN A SUCCESSFUL WORKPLACE ACCOMMODATION WHEN MENTAL HEALTH IS A FACTOR.

Much of the material available today on accommodation planning focuses on an employee's physical disability and limitations. On June 5, 2014, a new resource/tool called, Supporting Employee Success will be launched at the Ontario Occupational Health Association Conference. This tool helps describe job expectations that may have an impact on the psychological well-being of employees and facilitates a conversation between the employees and their health professional to choose among solutions that can enable them to do their job, even while experiencing a mental illness, such as depression or anxiety. These accommodations support employees' success and help sustain wellness on the job.

This resource, developed by a team of health professionals, was identified as a need through an Occupational Health Forum hosted by Mary Ann Baynton and the Great-West Life Centre for Mental Health in the Workplace in June of 2013. Join Mary Ann Baynton, Dr. Ian Arnold, Suzanne Arnold PhD, Dr. David Brown and Laura Lozanski to be one of the first to review, Supporting Employee Success. Those who attend the conference will receive a printed copy of the resource. Each webinar participant will receive a digital copy of the resource and be invited to be part of the discussion about the application of this tool. We will also share ideas for other resources that would help contribute to a psychologically safe and healthy work environment.

Details about the session are available at <http://www.oohna.on.ca/oohna-conference/>
