Psychologically Safe Leader Assessment (PSLA): Action Planning Workbook

Developing an action plan to strengthen and enhance leadership strategies may seem overwhelming at first, especially if it is added to an already demanding workload. The benefit, however, is that psychologically safe leadership can also support each of your employees to maximize their potential, thereby reducing your workload overall. Start by picking just 1-3 strategies to implement before moving on to others. Discuss the specific strategies with relevant senior leaders and/or employees, determine the intended impact, and set a timeline for yourself to complete them. Once you have success, introduce another strategy or two. You'll have a good chance of a measurable and also sustainable process of continual improvement.
