Developing an action plan to strengthen and enhance leadership skills may seem overwhelming at first. You can start by picking just one area to improve your competency before moving onto others. By selecting one area, brainstorming specific actions, and setting a timeline for yourself to complete them, you'll have a good chance of not only measurable, but sustainable improvement with respect to psychologically safe leadership skills.

I commit to working on strengthening my leadership skills in the following area (select one):

- Communication & Collaboration
- Social Intelligence
- Problem Solving & Conflict Management
- Security & Safety
- Fairness & Integrity

My specific actions will include: _____

I will measure my progress by: _____
